MIGHT - Spiritual Theme of the Month

June 2022

WILL: I will fulfill my purpose. I will achieve my goals. And I will graduate beyond. All of them are assured, because I will do it. I am not speaking of force, although I do direct energy. I am speaking that which is inside; that which is alive in me. It is deep within; unwavering and true. It reaches into the heavens. While I can make a request of the universe, until my will is included, I will receive half results. Because I accept people as they are and I recognize my experiences as opportunities, my will is good & great! In order to do what I have come to do I must bring forth the real me in all I do; in my work, my relations and even in my body. It is amazing the healing, the strength and the enlightenment that come when I assert myself, while 'being' in the rhythm of the universe.

ENERGY: I am energy. Everything is energy. There are no exceptions. That means it is all around me and ever present. I have no real limitations. The only limitations that impact me are the ones I impose on myself. Or as has been said, "We trifle when we assign limits to our desires, since nature hath set none." How many times have I accepted less than what I truly needed, less than who I really am . . . all too many. When I do so, I am wasting my time spiritually. But the good news is, I am here to outgrow limitations; outgrowing ideas & concepts that do not fulfill on my purpose and the energy of my thrust. I have that energy, to be all I came to be; I was born that way. I do not need to muster up the energy, it is here and I am made of it. This is a key to becoming one with all and working with energy.

VIGOR: There is a special feeling that comes from full involvement in my purpose. This is where I find myself immersed in achieving materially & accomplishing spiritually, simultaneously; the satisfaction of living in two worlds at once. Once I am in this groove, 'I lack for nothing.' This is why my loyalty and responsibility are so important. "My loyalty is, me and my guidance." "My responsibility is, what I have come to do." This creates a vigor that is undeniable. It gives rise to both a toughness through challenges and a zest in my many opportunities. Most times I fail to experience this vigor, it's because I am doing things or involved in things that are not my opportunity, or because I am unclear what I am getting out of it. Basically, when I know what I want, when I know what I need, and when I am taking action to manifest it, I am alive! My guidance did not wait for life to happen, they went out and happened to life. I have the same vigor for life.

POWER: "God sells us all things at the price of labor." Sometimes I forget that everything is available to me, to fulfill my reason for being here. I can get caught up in looking how others are looking; thinking that importance is based on what others think is important. That of course, is a quick way to create stress & limitation within. But, once I reach the point where I become consistent in claiming my own opportunities and needs, based on what I come to do, I am free. I then have power — I understand power. Prior to that realization, I am largely in an illusion — I will feel like I am at the mercy of other peoples' rights & wrongs and the system's rules & regulations. By utilizing the power of the soul, the power of my consciousness, to be of service, I become closer to my Helpers and to the Source.

DECISION: It may seem as if I am moving along well, but unless I am in the energy of decision, I am actually at the mercy of the surging currents around me. My soul "decision" is something deep; it comes from a place & space I can feel in my depths. And while I cannot prove that feeling, I am secure within it even through adversity and notwithstanding other peoples' doubts. It supplies me with crystal clear direction. I may not know everything in that direction . . . but I know the direction. My decision is like a fixed star in the sky. I can move towards many different destinations, but I am always guided by that star. It allows me to move beyond confusion or distraction. My purpose is simple and I am refining it as I go along. I will fulfill that purpose, while being of service, with all my might.
